We’re very excited! The official launching will be the first of two public events. The second event will be at the Barnes and Noble in Paterson. If you are planning to attend the second launch party, please share with us your intention. We had over 70 people pre-register for the Mini Cookie Factory, and we got 144 people registered by the time the website went live. They filled out a lot of paper surveys, so we know that about half of the people that got the email had actually responded. We are very excited about the response, because we think the work that we’ve put into the launch is worth it to share. As we set up last night, the staff were wearing t-shirts that said “We think the world could be a better place. We do because we can.” We hope that you will join us on June 23rd. The team and I would like to thank everyone who is involved in bringing this project to life. A special shoutout to our GoFundMe volunteers for contributing $1,000 so we could provide free access to a professional photographer and craft designer. Our purpose is to bring together a host of organizations and individuals who are invested in working on local solutions for positive and compassionate change. Support our work by joining our newsletter, purchasing our t-shirts, and 0298e982ba
