Download Subway Surfers for Android? - Android Hints .Q: Get only Day of the Week from date in vba code I've created a code in VBA for a certain task. I need help to achieve what I want to do. What I've been looking for so far is a code that returns only the day of the week from a Date that is given in a variable. The Code: Dim day1 As String day1 = Format(Date, "dd") 'For every day, print "my text" If day1 = "Monday" Then MsgBox "Your text" End If The desired result: If day1 = "Monday" Then MsgBox "Your text" End If The result from the code above: MsgBox "Your text" The result I'd like to have: MsgBox "Your text" Any help would be appreciated. A: By simple check, if the day of the week is Monday, then you'll get a MessageBox. If it's not, no MsgBox appears. This is how you'd get that "desired result": Dim day1 As String If Day(Date) = 1 Then day1 = "Monday" ElseIf Day(Date) = 2 Then day1 = "Tuesday" ElseIf Day(Date) = 3 Then day1 = "Wednesday" ElseIf Day(Date) = 4 Then day1 = "Thursday" ElseIf Day(Date) = 5 Then day1 = "Friday" ElseIf Day(Date) = 6 Then day1 = "Saturday" ElseIf Day(Date) = 7 Then day1 = "Sunday" End If MsgBox "Your text" & vbNewLine & day1 Note that if you ever want to see a MessageBox, you'll need to use the MsgBox command, not MsgBox.
